TOPIK Writing Q51 · Score your own answer (free sample)

This free sample has one Question 51. First write ㉠ and ㉡ yourself. Then find the most similar of the 14 graded examples, and deduct points from 5 using the error code table. The result is an estimate on this book's practice rubric, not an official TOPIK score. Use it to identify the issues in your answer. The examples are based on common learner mistakes, including some that come from translating directly from English. Each one shows the score, the error code and how to fix it, so you can check your answer even without a teacher.

51. 다음 글의 ㉠과 ㉡에 알맞은 말을 각각 쓰시오. (10점)

자오린이 사장님께 보낸 메시지

사장님, 안녕하십니까? 주말에 빵집에서 일하는 자오린입니다.

지난주에 사장님께서 월급 계좌를 등록하려면 통장 사본이 필요하다고 하셨습니다. 그래서 어제 서류 봉투를 드렸는데, 집에 와서 가방을 열어 보니 통장 사본이 그대로 들어 있었습니다. 출근 전에 급하게 서류를 준비하다가 (㉠).

지금 통장 사본을 사진으로 찍어 이 문자와 함께 보내 드립니다. 월급날이 이번 주 수요일인데, 이 사진을 보시고 (㉡)? 통장 사본은 토요일에 출근할 때 다시 가져가겠습니다.

그럼 그때 뵙겠습니다.

Vocabulary hints

통장 사본 a copy of your bankbook. '통장' = bankbook (a small passbook from your bank); '사본' = copy. Employers in Korea often ask for one to set up the account your pay goes into.

계좌 (bank) account. '월급 계좌' = the account your pay goes into.

그대로 as it was, untouched. The thing is still in the same place, unchanged.

-다가 while doing... (something else happened). The first action was still going on when the next thing happened.

월급날 payday. '월급' originally means a monthly salary; money from a part-time job that is paid once a month is also often called '월급'.

뵙다 to see, to meet (someone senior). The humble form of '보다' and '만나다'. '뵙겠습니다' is how you say "See you then" to your boss.

After you write: check yourself in three steps

1. Write. Give yourself 5 minutes and write ㉠ and ㉡ on paper. You may look at the vocabulary hints, but do not look at the model answer or the graded examples yet. To practise under exam conditions, cover the vocabulary hints too. When you finish, put your answers back into the text and read from the sentence before the blank to the sentence after it. Circle anything that sounds awkward.
2. Score yourself. Check in this order: (1) context and meaning (W01, W05, W06, W07), (2) sentence type, question or statement (W04), (3) style and honorifics (W02), (4) grammar, spelling, spacing and copying (W03, W08, W09). An answer that fits the context and has none of the problems in the code table gets 5 points, even if its wording is not listed below. Otherwise, find the most similar graded example; if several look similar, check all of them, and note their labels and codes. Start at 5 points. If a code says "○ points at most" or "only 0 to 1 points", cap your score there first (if several caps apply, use the lowest), then deduct once for each other problem (W09: at most 1 point off per blank). Different problems count separately even when they sit in the same words (e.g., '주세요' is both a command form, W04, and a -요 ending, W02). One problem is never counted under two codes (e.g., do not add W07 for a word you already counted under W01). The minimum is 0.
3. Fix it, then ask an AI to check. Correct the mistakes as the examples show, put the answer back into the text, and read it again. Meaning (W01), being specific enough (W05) and word choice (W07) are hard to judge yourself. If you are not sure, or you found no problems, you can ask an AI to check: open the attached file AI self-check prompt (Q51).txt, copy all of it, replace "(write your answer here)" under [My answer] with your answers, and send it in one message to any AI chatbot (e.g., the one you already use). The prompt already tells the AI to compare your answer only with the examples and codes here, and not to search the web.

The 0–5 points per blank, the caps and the -1/-2 deductions are this book's practice rubric, not the official TOPIK scoring standard. Use them to identify issues in your answer, not to predict an official score. Find the row that is most like your answer, and check its score and code.

Ex.	Answer	Points	Code	Why → Fix
㉠1	서류를 준비하다가 통장 사본을 빠뜨렸습니다	4	W03	'서류를 준비하다가' is already before the blank, so it is repeated when you put the answer back. Only the short phrase immediately before the blank was copied, not the whole clause: -1. → 통장 사본을 빠뜨렸습니다
㉠2	통장 사본을 넣지 않았는 것 같습니다	4	W09	For something that already happened, '것 같다' takes '-(으)ㄴ': '넣지 않은 것'. '않았는' is a wrong form: -1. → 통장 사본을 넣지 않은 것 같습니다
㉠3	통장 사본을 빠뜨린 것 같아요	3	W02	The meaning is right, but '같아요' is a '-요' ending and the text uses '-습니다': -2. → 통장 사본을 빠뜨린 것 같습니다
㉠4	서류를 잘 챙기지 못했습니다	3	W05	It only says the documents were not handled well. It does not say that the missing item was the '통장 사본', or that it was not put in. This blank gets 3 points at most. → 통장 사본을 넣지 못했습니다
㉠5	통장 사본을 빠뜨릴 것 같습니다	2	W06	'-(으)ㄹ 것 같다' is a guess about something that has not happened yet, but the copy was left out yesterday. For something that already happened, use '-(으)ㄴ 것 같다'. This blank gets 2 points at most. → 통장 사본을 빠뜨린 것 같습니다
㉠6	실수를 했습니다	2	W05	A literal "I made a mistake": it does not say what the mistake was. If you only say you made a mistake, this blank gets 2 points at most. → 통장 사본을 봉투에 넣지 않은 것 같습니다
㉠7	통장 사본을 잃어버린 것 같습니다	1	W01	'잃어버리다' means "to lose". The sentence before says the copy is still in the bag, so it was not lost; for forgetting to put it in, use '잊어버리다'. Saying it was lost contradicts the text, so it counts as W01 (one problem, so W07 is not added). The sentence itself reads naturally and does not say the opposite, so it gets 1 point. → 통장 사본을 넣는 것을 잊어버렸습니다

㉡

Ex.	Answer	Points	Code	Why → Fix
㉡1	월급을 넣어 주실 수 있을까요	4	W02	Common in everyday text messages, but it does not match the '-습니다' style of the text, so it still loses points. Under W02, '-(으)ㄹ까요' loses 1 point, one point less than '-아/어요'. → 월급을 넣어 주실 수 있습니까
㉡2	제 계좌에서 월급을 넣어 주실 수 있습니까	4	W08	The money goes into the account, so the account is the destination: use '에' ('제 계좌에'). '에서' marks the place where an action happens, or a starting point: -1. → 제 계좌에 월급을 넣어 주실 수 있습니까

Ex.	Answer	Points	Code	Why → Fix
㉣3	월급을 너어 주실 수 있습니까	4	W09	'넣어' is pronounced [너어]; the 'ㅎ' is silent, but you must write it: -1. → 월급을 넣어 주실 수 있습니까
㉣4	월급을 예금해 주실 수 있습니까	3	W07	From English "deposit my pay", the word '예금하다' was chosen. '예금' means keeping money in a bank account as savings; money paid into someone's account is '입금'. So '예금하다' is the wrong word for an employer paying wages into your account. Use '넣어 주다', '보내 주다' or '입금해 주다': -2. → 월급을 넣어 주실 수 있습니까
㉣5	수요일에 월급을 넣어 주셨으면 좋겠습니다	3	W04	A literal "I would like you to...": '-았/었으면 좋겠습니다' makes a statement. The blank is followed by a question mark, so you must ask the boss whether they can do it. A statement: -2. → 수요일에 월급을 넣어 주실 수 있습니까
㉣6	월급을 넣어 줄 수 있어요	2	W02 W02	Two W02 problems: '있어요' is a '-요' ending (-2), and the boss is the one putting the money in, so '줄 수' needs '-시-': '주실 수' (-1 more). → 월급을 넣어 주실 수 있습니까
㉣7	월급을 넣어 주세요	1	W04 W02	A literal "Please put my pay in": it is a command, not a question: -2. '-세요' is also a '-요' ending, which is a different problem in the same words: -2 more. → 월급을 넣어 주시겠습니까

Error codes

The caps and the -1/-2 deductions below are this book's practice rubric, not official TOPIK values.

Code	Problem	Details	Example
W01	Meaning does not fit the context	This blank gets only 0 to 1 points. 0 points if it does not make sense, is off topic, or says the opposite of what it should (as in the example). 1 point if it reads naturally and does not say the opposite, but contradicts a fact in the text (like ㉠7, which says the copy was lost).	통장 사본을 봉투에 잘 넣었습니다
W02	Wrong style or honorifics	A '-요' ending such as '-아/어요' or '-(으)세요': -2. Only '-(으)ㄹ까요': -1. Asking the boss to do something without '-시-': -1. '-시-' used one extra time (e.g. '주실 수 있으십니까'): no deduction.	월급을 넣어 줄 수 있습니까
W03	Copying, writing too much	Copying a short phrase immediately before the blank (e.g., '서류를 준비하다가', '이 사진을 보시고'): -1. Copying the whole clause before the blank (e.g. '출근 전에 급하게 서류를 준비하다가'), or writing two sentences: -2. Mentioning a noun such as '통장 사본' or '월급' again does not count as copying.	통장 사본을 빠뜨렸습니다. 정말 죄송합니다.
W04	Wrong sentence type	The blank is followed by a question mark, but the answer is a statement or a command (e.g. '-고 싶습니다', '-기 바랍니다', '-았/었으면 좋겠습니다', '-아/어 주세요', '-아/어 주십시오'): -2.	월급을 넣어 주십시오
W05	Too vague	Only "I made a mistake" or "there is a problem": 2 points at most for this blank. Only a general idea, without saying which document or what the boss should do: 3 points at most.	서류에 문제가 있습니다
W06	Wrong tense	Something that already happened is written as not yet happened (e.g. '-(으)ㄹ 것 같다'), or the other way round: 2 points at most for this blank.	통장 사본을 빠뜨릴 것 같습니다
W07	Wrong word	A word chosen from an English translation that means something different in Korean: -2. Only slightly unnatural: -1.	월급을 예금해 주실 수 있습니까
W08	Wrong or missing particle	-1 for each missing or wrong particle. "Into the envelope" is '봉투에'; "into my account" is '제 계좌에' or '제 계좌로'.	봉투에서 통장 사본을 넣지 않은 것 같습니다
W09	Spelling, word form, spacing	Spelling, conjugation or spacing mistakes: -1 at most per blank, however many there are (e.g. '넣지 안았습니다' should be '넣지 않았습니다', '너어' should be '넣어', '않았는 것' should be '않은 것', '빠뜨린것' should be '빠뜨린 것').	통장 사본을 빠뜨린것 같습니다

A blank left empty, or not written in Korean: 0 points.

Check with AI (optional)

The full prompt is in the attached file AI self-check prompt (Q51).txt. Copy all of it into any AI chatbot (e.g., the one you already use), and replace "(write your answer here)" at the end with your answers. The AI compares your answer only with the graded examples and codes here. It gives an estimated range, which is a practice estimate, not an official TOPIK score.

Pitfalls for English-speaking learners

Pitfall (English speakers): Konglish false friends

These words come from English (or look like it), but in Korean they mean something else. Check them when you read and write. (These rows come from the book's appendix, "Pitfalls for English-speaking learners".)

Word	Meaning in Korean	What goes wrong
원룸	A small studio flat: one room with a kitchen area and its own bathroom, usually rented alone.	It is not "one room in a shared house".
노트북	A laptop computer.	Not a paper notebook: that is 공책 or 노트.
헬스	Working out at a gym. 헬스장 = gym. '헬스를 하다.'	Not "health" (= 건강). ✗ 헬스를 위해 운동한다.
서비스	In shops and restaurants: something extra you get free. '이건 서비스예요.' = This one is on the house.	It is easy to read it only as "service quality". (고객 서비스 = customer service is fine.)
사인	Signature or autograph.	A road or shop sign is 표지판 / 간판, not 사인. 사인 is casual in a formal notice.
미팅	Among students: a group blind date (several people from each side). 소개팅 = a one-on-one blind date. In offices it can also mean a work meeting.	In an essay it sounds casual and can be read as a date.
커닝 (often misspelled 컨닝)	Cheating in an exam.	Not "being clever" ("cunning"). Too casual for an essay.
파이팅	A cheer: "Go! You can do it!" (화이팅 is a common non-standard spelling.)	Not "fighting". It does not belong in an essay.

Pitfall (English speakers): habits that carry over into Korean writing

✗ = grammar or spelling error, or wrong meaning · △ = grammatical but less suitable here. These checks come from the book's units and appendix (some example sentences here are new).

에 의해 (English passive "by us")	△ 이 문제는 우리에 의해 해결되어야 한다.	우리가 이 문제를 해결해야 한다.
Counters and word order ("two reasons")	✗ 외국어를 배워야 하는 두 개 이유가 있다.	외국어를 배워야 하는 이유는 두 가지이다.
의 (a chain of "of")	△ 한국의 대학의 외국어 교육의 문제	한국 대학의 외국어 교육 문제
-지 않다. With noun + 하다 verbs, 안 goes before 하다 and the noun usually takes 을/를: 공부를 안 한다 (in speech also 공부 안 한다). In TOPIK writing, -지 않다 is best: 공부하지 않는다.	△ 주말에는 집을 안 청소한다. (sounds unnatural; avoid)	주말에는 집을 청소하지 않는다.
뿐만 아니라 (spacing)	✗ 눈 뿐만 아니라 뇌도 쉰다. / 값이 쌀뿐만 아니라 맛도 좋다.	눈뿐만 아니라 뇌도 쉰다. / 값이 쌀 뿐만 아니라 맛도 좋다.
그리고 · 그래서 ("and… so…")	△ 운동은 건강에 좋다. 그리고 기분도 좋아진다. 그리고 잠도 잘 온다. 그래서 운동을 해야 한다.	운동은 건강에 좋다. 또한 기분이 좋아지고 숙면에도 도움이 된다. 따라서 운동을 꾸준히 할 필요가 있다.
